Expectations from Faculty Members in Each Semester

The Department of Physical Therapy & Health Rehabilitation places a great value on professional and productive environment created by its faculty members. Therefore, a faculty member should exhibit good work ethics, such as punctuality and cooperation with other faculty members and the department. Since the workload differs each semester for faculty members, the following are expectations from faculty members for each semester.

Punctuality and Commitment to the Official Working Hours

Punctuality and commitment to official working hours is a must requirement at the department of Physical Therapy & Health Rehabilitation in order to ensure smooth progress of the department.

Cooperation

For the first three weeks of the semester, each course instructor is required to submit the student's attendance in terms of the number of students that attended each course. This is to be submitted by Thursday of each week. This is required for statistical purposes by the Quality Assurance and Academic Accreditation Unit of the Department of Physical Therapy & Health Rehabilitation.

Syllabus

There is a course specification for each course, which includes information and guidelines about the course. Each faculty member should follow the course specification and create a course syllabus based on it. This should be submitted to the course coordinator at the beginning of every semester and distributed it to students on their first class; it should include the following information:

- Name, email, office hours, and office number of a faculty member.
- Name and number of the course.
- Goals and objectives of the course.
- Required texts.
- Topics that will be covered.
- The division of grades (midterms, quizzes, research, presentations, projects...etc.)
- Any useful websites that are related to the course.
- In order to avoid misunderstanding, faculty members are advised to explain their way in managing the classroom e.g. attendance, assignment submissions, and makeup exams.

Upon completion, a copy should be given to the Quality Assurance and Accreditation Committee.

Coordination

It is important to the department and the university as a whole that the courses are unified regardless of who is teaching the course in order to achieve student justice, enrich the teaching experience for faculty members, and enhance the quality of teaching and learning in the program. This results in making the students feel secure that they are receiving an equal academic experience, as well as making the faculty members benefit in which all of us -no matter how many years of experience- surely benefit from the exchange of expertise and experience and opinions about the content, teaching strategies, types of examination and grading.

The main goal of coordination is to ensure that the learning outcomes set out in the course specifications are met. It also minimizes the gap between different sections of the same course, which is equally as important. It makes sure that the academic process, such as grading, follows the guidelines and goals in the course specifications and oversees what faculty and students are conducting in class that can help in reaching that goal. Thus, each course is assigned to a course coordinator whose responsibility includes the following:

1. To make sure that each faculty member responsible for a section is teaching it according to the course specifications created by the department. Moreover, to guarantee that each faculty member is working on the development of the goals and targeted skills.
2. To make sure that examination and other grading methods in different sections are similar (in terms of types of questions and level of difficulty).
3. To write a unified course report that includes what is mentioned in the course reports written by faculty members of the different sections.
4. To guarantee accurate and high-quality performance by conducting meetings with faculty members of other sections according to the following:
 - Meetings should take place during the first week of the semester in order to discuss the syllabus and reach a common ground.

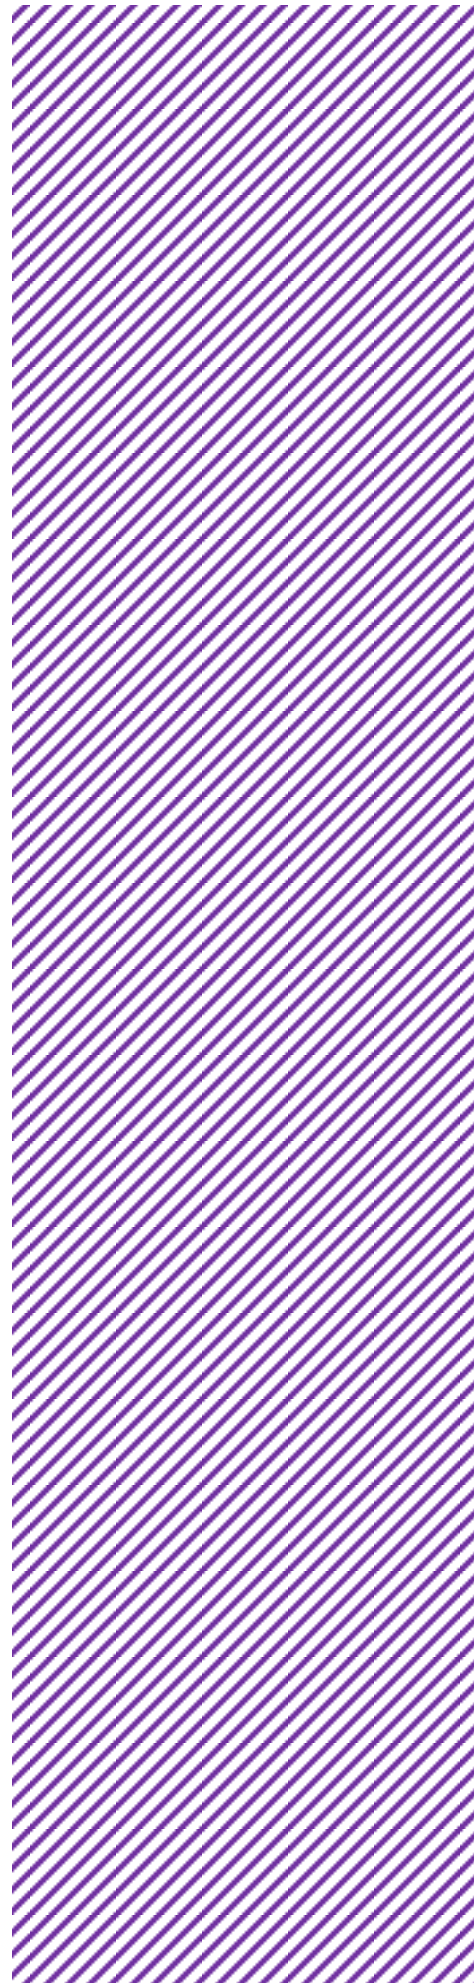

- Meetings should take place prior to midterms and prior to finals in order to make sure that the exams in the different sections are somewhat similar in terms of the type of questions and difficulty level.

Meetings should take place after correcting the midterms and finals to make sure that all faculty members have consistent standards in relation to the course specification's goals and objectives, as well as to make sure that there is agreement on how the students from both sections are graded.

- If instructors are coordinators of courses they are teaching; they should also share their exams with other instructors of the same course. Coordination is a learning platform which allows instructors to share their knowledge and exchange experiences in order to benefit from one another.

Course Reports: At the end of every semester, each course instructor is required to fill out a course report and hand it to the course coordinator and Quality Assurance and Academic Accreditation Committee. Faculty members should explain the teaching methods, techniques used, and any difficulties faced. They also should include the final results and how the grades are divided. Furthermore, they can suggest solutions to the problems faced in order to improve the teaching and learning experience.

Course Files: The National Commission for Assessment and Academic Accreditation (NCAAA) requires the preparation of a course file, which is instrumental in achieving continuous review and improvement of the courses. Course file contains 17 sections and provide a detailed insight to the course having course specifications, course report, teaching material, sample exams, ILO Assessment plan, student's evaluation, detailed semester result etc. At the end of every semester, each course instructor is required to fill out a course File and hand it to the course coordinator and Quality Assurance and Academic Accreditation Committee in order to ensure high quality of students learning experience, continuous improvement of the educational material is essential.

Schedules

In the first week of each semester, faculty members are expected to have a copy of their schedule signed by the Head of the department and the Dean of the college and hung on their office door that includes: courses taught, section number, time and place of each lecture, office hours (6 hours at least) and academic advising hours (6 hours at least) committees they are involved in.
